Awards

2011 sees the introduction of a KISFF Jury award. Please vote for your favourite film and contribute to the KISFF audience award.

The jury consists of Mark Dingli, Luisa Bonello and Lorianne Hall.

Both awards will be announced on Monday 1st August.

The awards have been generously provided by our sponsor Ceramika Maltija.

Only films showing on main screen are eligible for your vote.

BARE BONES

a genuinely exciting new art quarterly helmed by artist, illustrator and agent provocateur Harry Malt, Chris Bianchi and various members of the groundbreaking Le Gun collective.

"Barely another bright-eyed example of the present trend for non-electronic human communication, this is a modern day Jack London loitering about in the rough heat of the self-promotional art ego wasteland. The scaffold on which we are hung, temporarily it supports us but will inevitably crumble like old bones and end up a pile of spidery dust." - Bare Bones

PARTY

Once the screenings on Saturday night are over, we would like to invite you to our festival party that will take place at Torri Mamo in Marsascula. We will celebrate our 7th Festival edition with an eclectic line up that includes our favourite Uncle Al (Brighton), Malta born and London based Capitol K (Faith and Industry) and Phil Adams (Rough Trade). Entrance to the party is 5 euros. If you have a Kinemastik Membership card or a block ticket to the festival, entrance is 2 euros.
